

TOP OF THE POPS – Jeremy Taylor

“Hello and welcome to the latest Top of the Pops, the _____
a superlative

show on television. My name is _____ and today I'll be famous man or woman telling you about some of the _____ hit records of the week.

I'll be playing _____ by the Rolling Stones which a song title

_____ critics have described as _____. I'll be a number an adjective interviewing _____ and we'll hear his/her record. It has a famous man or woman sold over _____ copies so far, making it one of the a number

_____ records of all time. Perhaps you didn't know that this
a superlative

record was also recorded by _____, _____ a famous man or woman a number

_____ ago.
a unit of time

But perhaps the _____ surprise of the week is that
a superlative

Paul McCartney is going to form a new band. Joining Paul will be _____ on _____ and a famous man or woman a musical instrument

_____ on _____. When I told
a famous man or woman a musical instrument

_____ about this, all s/he could say was

an exclamation
